LIBERTY BREADS

GOVERNMENT EXPERT GIVES A DEMONSTRATION TO LADIES AT CITY HALL

Mrs. Jessica Hazzard, the government demonstrator of conservation cooking, held a very successful meeting at the city hall on Tuesday morning in the council chamber, where the city management has installed an electric oven and added chairs and other conveniences for this work, which is to be continued each week on Tuesday at the same time. Mrs. Hazzard gives her entire time to this branch of government work, traveling almost continuously in this part of Southern California. She has successfully established these weekly classes in a number of nearby towns, including Pasadena, Ventura, Fillmore and other places. The subject for demonstration on Tuesday was, "Liberty Bread," and was accomplished by the unique plan of mixing and kneading the bread earlier in the morning and then subjecting it to the severe test of transportation from Los Angeles before the final raising and baking at the local city hall. The remarkable feat was accomplished with the utmost success and the beautiful and tasty loaves emerged from the oven a most convincing example of the desirability of war bread. Mrs. Hazzard also mixed and baked delicious quick breads including cereal muffins and rice gems. The government provides the recipes for these excellent and well tested breads, which Mrs. Hazzard gladly distributes free of charge. The recipes printed below are some of those given out on request.

The world needs wheat. It is depending on the United States and Canada for its supply. America must divide what she has with the other nations. To enable her to save sufficient wheat, experts have perfected Liberty breads, each loaf of which saves from 20 to 35 per cent of the amount of wheat flour usually used. Here are the proportions for one loaf of a cornmeal yeast bread:

1¼ cups milk and water, or water,
tablespoon sugar,
1 tablespoon fat,
2 teaspoons salt.
2-3 cup cornmeal.
2 1-3 cups flour.
½ cake compressed yeast,
¼ cup warm water.

Add sugar, fat and salt to liquid and bring to boiling point. Add cornmeal slowly, stirring constantly until all is added. Remove from fire, cool mixture, and add compressed yeast, softened in ¼ cup warm water. Add flour and knead. Let rise until about double its bulk, knead again and put in pan. When light, bake in moderate oven for at least an hour.

Oatmeal a Good Substitute

Next to corn in popularity have come oats. There is a new oatmeal yeast bread, not unlike Graham bread in appearance, having a sweet nutty flavor much favored by those who like dark breads. This is the recipe:

1 cup milk and water, or water,
1 teaspoon salt.
1 tablespoon fat.
1 tablespoon sugar.
1 cup rolled oats.
2¼ to 2½ cups wheat flour.
½ cake compressed yeast.
¼ cup warm water.

Scald liquid and pour it over the rolled oats, sugar, salt and fat. Let stand about half hour, until lukewarm. Add yeast, softened in the warm water. Add flour and knead. Let rise until double its bulk. Knead again and place in pan. When light, bake in a moderate oven from 45 to 90 minutes.

The mid-week service at the First Congregational church tonight will be a service of thanksgiving. Each one attending will tell of at least one thing to be thankful for.

Amid the distress and sorrow of the present time it is a good thing to recall the many blessings which people enjoy.

A good attendance is expected. The service will last only one hour. Dr. Willisford will be in chage of the meeting.

RED CROSS PACKETS

Persons who have prepared Christmas packages for soldiers or sailors should send them to their local Red Cross Chapter, and not to the headquarters of the Red Cross in Washington, as many have done through apparent misunderstanding. Christmas packages are assembled by local Chapters and Auxiliaries, packed in cases and forwarded directly to Division warehouses for distribution to cantonments or for shipment abroad. The National Headquarters in Washington is devoted exclusively to executive work.

BOY'S SAVING TO RED CROSS

A thirteen-year-old boy of Cyrus, Minn., has sent his entire savings to the Red Cross, with a letter which said in part:

"I heard that little boys could give their dimes and nickels to the Red Cross. I have saved up dimes and nickels for some years and I am sending all that I have, $5.23. I am glad that I saved them so they will do some good to the soldiers."

ADD TO RED CROSS GIFT

Methodist Sunday schools of the United States have added $18,500 to their original gift of $100,000 to the American Red Cross. Illinois stands first in number of contributors to the Methodist Sunday School gift, while Pennsylvania has the honor of the largest state donation, its total of contributions being $4,526. The largest single contribution was $500.

CONSIDER AMERICAN DOMINATION OF WAR

CHANGE OF PLANS OF U. S. MILITARY AUTHORITIES IS CAUSE OF SPECULATION IN FRANCE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, November 28.—The likelihood of American domination of the inter-allied war conference is the subject of great speculation in France today. The prominence given belated dispatches in regard to the change of American war plans to include a fighting force of 5,000,000 men has caused considerable discussion. French newspapers favor the appointment of a generallissimo to be in supreme command of all allied military forces.

BIG CHARITY BALL TONIGHT

Everything is in readiness for the big social event of the season, the third annual Charity ball given by the Knights Templar at Masonic Temple tonight. The proceeds are for local charity work. The officers and members extend a welcome to every citizen of Glendale to come and enjoy an evening with them. There will be good music and refreshments. If the past is any criterion a most enjoyable evening is assured. In these times of war and disturbances, when so many good causes have been presented to the public for financial assistance, we are apt to overlook our own home city. Like all other cities, Glendale has its needy to care for, and it is for these worthy cases that the entire proceeds will be spent at the Thanksgiving and Christmas season. Tickets can be purchased at Crofton's shoe store, or at the Masonic Temple this evening.

The moving picture capital in the United States is estimated at $2,000,000,000.

HAPPENINGS IN STATE

AUTO RACES AT ASCOT PARK ATTRACT SPORT FANS TOMORROW

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28.—Chevrolet, Oldfield, Delno, Durant, Pullen, Milton, Hearne, Vail, Patterson and Langley with a host of other stars of equal or slightly less magnitude made ready today for the Southern California auto races at Ascot Park tomorrow. The races start at noon and give promise of furnishing Southern California the best sport in months. The Liberty Sweepstakes of 50 miles is the opening event with the twenty mile Ascot handicap following. The Gobbler Invitational event of ten miles is third on the card. As an additional event Katherine Stinson, girl aviatrix, will give an exhibition flight over the field and Barney Oldfield in his "Golden Submarine" will run against time in an attempt to set new records.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—Thanksgiving is to be fittingly observed at the Mare Island Naval station tomorrow. The day will begin with religious services under Chaplain Gatlin between 7 and 8 o'clock in the morning. Then during the morning there will be a tug of war, boat races in 12-oared cutters, greased pole climbing and boxing bouts with the boxers blindfolded. At noon the Thanksgiving dinner, with all sorts of trimmings, will be served. In the afternoon the electrical school football team will meet that of the hospital corps and a little later in the day Cliff Ireland will lead a team of civilians to the Island in an attempt to rout the sailor team led by George "Duffy" Lewis—now one of the Mare Island yeomen. The evening will be devoted to boxing and wrestling matches.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—Twelve million Red Cross Seals will go on sale in California tomorrow. The seals are to adorn Christmas presents and sell for a cent apiece. The proceeds go 75 per cent to relief work in the community where the seals were sold, 10 per cent to the American Red Cross and 15 per cent to the California Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

BERKELEY, Nov. 28.—The United States has neglected its duty in the care of its young men, in the belief of Dr. John N. Force assistant professor of epidemiology at the University of California and member of the Berkeley health department. "The fact that half of the young men of the country have failed to pass the draft tests shows the nation has neglected its duty to its youth," Dr. Force told the California Civic League in an address. "In Berkeley we rejected exactly one half of our young manhood. The same condition existed throughout the country. Why? Simply because the men were undernourished. What the trouble is I do not know. It may be too many cigarettes, too much coffee, or other things but whatever the solution, the fact remains that there is a problem confronting us." Too much time, according to Dr. Force, is devoted by health departments to superficial things. He characterized the "swat the fly campaign" as ludicrous. "A fly does no harm walking across our food, but we simply don't like to see him there. It is far more important to see that the persons handling our foodstuffs are healthy and not recovering from some contagious disease."

VISALIA, Nov. 28.—Just a taste of what the evidence in the trial of Mrs. W. C. Howe, Oakland society matron, for killing W. H. Brooks, of Porterville, will be, was given here today when Mrs. Howe was called upon for her preliminary examination. That years of alleged slandering and persecution of Mrs. Howe by Brooks following a dinner in a San Francisco cafe eleven years ago, when Mrs. Howe claims she repulsed alleged improper advances by Brooks, finally resulted in a sudden loss of her better judgment and the killing of Brooks was predicted as the fabric of the defense for the superior court trial, after the evidence in the preliminary examination was heard today. The defense offered but little testimony while the prosecution laid before the court the outline of its story of Brooks' death. Attorney Frank McGowan, representing Mrs. Howe, is understood to be preparing vigorous defense, entailing the use of many witnesses and covering many phases of the alleged relations between Mrs. Howe and Brooks.

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Nov. 28.—Mrs. Margaret B. Cornell will have a real Thanksgiving tomorrow. Today the doors of San Quention prison opened and she stepped out a free woman, after having served a sen-

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1917

GENTLEMANLY SOLDIERS

Edward H. Hamilton in the Examiner calls attention to the characteristic politeness of the soldier boys in rising to give their seats to women (and to old gentlemen like himself) in the street cars. He might have gone much farther in commending the really remarkable conduct of the average soldier in uniform. We see only a few soldiers in Fresno, and these few are our own boys home on leave. Naturally we take it for granted that they should be gentlemen. But it has been a part of the writer's duty to spend much time in San Francisco, where soldiers swarm, and also to visit Chicago, New York and other eastern cities where they are even more numerous. These soldiers are drawn by lot from all classes of our population, from the tramp and hoodlum up to the highest. There is no guarantee that they were all gentlemen in civil life, and certainly many of them must not have been. But their general conduct in uniform is absolutely the most astonishing example of wholesale gentlemanliness which a somewhat wide observation of the world has yet discovered.

In the first place, they are all sober all the time. If there are exceptions, they are not visible to the general observer. They are clean, manly, upstanding boys, cheerful without boisterousness and serious without sanctimoniousness. Whatever manners they may have brought from home, they all show good manners now. Many of them, even among the privates, are visibly the highest type of American gentlemen, and the others, who did not start so well, are taking these for their models. Not merely decent and law-abiding, but gentle and chivalrous.

And the sailors are as fine as the soldiers. "Jack ashore" used to be a drunken, swearing, tobacco spitting tough. Now he is a fine, clean young American, not stiff and straight and lean, like the soldier, but easy and slouchy and plump and cheerful, a little less intense and a little more human, with less company manners, but with quite as little roughness and uncouthness—a boy you just can't help but love.

America can be very proud of her army and navy. It is the finest body of men, gathered in the finest spirit, and showing the finest training in self-respecting manliness, this nation ever turned out. The whole world is going to be the better off for them.—Fresno Republican.

"WRITE A LETTER EAST" DAY

Now is the psychological time for "Write a Letter East Day" and officials of the Automobile Club of Southern California are advocating it for all enthusiastic motorists of this section of the state.

"If you like Southern California as a touring ground, tell your motoring friends and relatives in the east about it, and thus do a bit to give other people a chance to enjoy some of the local wonders," say Automobile club officials.

Eastern friends have long been impressed with stories of the growth of pumpkins and beets here, but the news of the hundreds of miles of paved roads and the various types of mountain and valley scenery for touring purposes have not been sufficiently exploited, it is pointed out.

Suggestions for data to be included in the "Letters East" are given out by local Automobile Club representatives in conformity with those issued from the touring bureau at the Los Angeles headquarters, and these suggestions contain some valuable data both in specific and general instances.

It might be pointed out that there are 4,245 miles of paved and macadamized highway in Southern California. This mileage is so divided between the thirteen southern counties as to make one large and continuous net-work of splendid tours. These tours include, it might be indicated, the greatest variety of scenic attractions to be in America—and they are available all-the-year-round, instead of only for a few months.

There are 30,000 enamelled metal road signs erected by the Automobile Club for the guidance of visitors, and each route selected is easy to follow for this reason. Mountain trips, sea-coast tours, valley and desert jaunts all are marked so as to be readily prosecuted.

In addition to this service, the club announces that its headquarters, all branch offices and touring bureaus will be open to eastern visitors throughout the year, where maps, touring information and advice can be obtained by visitors without cost. Members of eastern clubs should be advised to bring with them their eastern membership cards. For the special service of the Legal Department and Inter-Insurance Exchange, visitors are advised to affiliate with the Southern California organization.

NATION MUST HAVE INDUSTRIAL PEACE

In his address to the American Federation of Labor President Wilson made this significant statement:

"If we are true friends of freedom, we will see that the power of this country and the producing activity of the country shall be raised to the highest degree and nobody should be allowed to stand in its way."

Further on in his address, the President interpreted his statement. He said:

"Nobody must interrupt the progress of our energy if interruption can be avoided without invasion of freedom. Nobody has the right to stop the processes of labor unless all processes of counsel have stopped."

Then addressing himself directly to the delegates in the conventon, the President gave further interprtation of his meaning as follows:

"I might as well say right here that I am not talking to you (labor men) alone. You do some things to stop the forces of labor. But there are others who do the same thing."

A further interpretation was given by the President when he said:

"A settlement is had to avoid when parties are brought face. We must insist in every instance the parties must come into each other's presence."—The Manufacturer."

TAXING OF CAPITAL

With the prices of labor and all commodities of barter going up, the prices of corporation securities are going down, and lately at a pace which has occasioned some apprehension in the financial centers. It is said, in the dispatches, that the decline is due to several causes. Doubtless the larger and immediate occasion is the darkening prospect of the war. This warns us to expect a longer continuance of it than had previously been thought likely. And, so far, the cost of our participation in the war has been assessed against capital, that employed by corporations being preferred. Labor commands a higher wage as a consequence of the war, and the raw products of labor also command higher prices. The wages of capital alone have been diminished as a consequence of the war. To be sure, most of the industrial corporations have been showing larger net earnings than they did before the war began. But the increase is now nominal rather than actual, for the government has appropriated the greater part of these earnings, and the prospects of the war's continuing longer and of our participating in it on a larger scale than had been thought probable, conspire as a warning to those who have their funds enlisted in corporation service that the best they can expect is a still greater seizure of corporation earnings and of income from investment, while the worst is an impairment of their security. That capital shows a disposition to withdraw from corporation service and either to find other employment or to go into retirement is so natural a phenomenon that no one should be surprised.—Galveston News.

McCARTY-POWERS

One of the prettiest weddings ever held in the Holy Family Catholic church in Glendale, was the marriage of Miss Mary Gertrude Powers to Robert Michael McCarty at 9 o'clock on Tuesday morning, November 27th, Rev. James S. O'Neill officiating at the nuptial mass. The bride was lovely in her becoming traveling suit of taupe chiffon broadcloth with hat to match. Her bridesmaid, Miss Sarah Vaughn, wore a pretty plum colored charmeuse gown with hat to match. The best man was Mr. A. J. Vaughn. The decorations in the church were beautiful, yellow and white, chrysanthemums being artistically arranged among the profusion of smilax and greenery. The wedding march was played by Miss Ruprecht, and Miss Viola Yorba sang very effectively through the ceremony, "God Made Me Thine." A large number of friends witnessed the beautiful ceremony. Later a delicious wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. N. A. Powers, 315 West Colorado street, to about twenty five guests. The house was attractively decorated in pink and white chrysanthemums with smilax. The young couple received many beautiful presents among which was a large chest of flat silver from Pomona friends where the bride had formerly lived. Mr. and Mrs. McCarty left for an extended trip through the north and will be at home on their return at their own new home at 5652 South Main street in Los Angeles which the groom has already hansomely furnished.

MORE SWEATERS NEEDED

The War Council of the American Red Cross recently sent the following statement to all Division Managers:

"It is imperative that all of the sweaters, wristlets and socks that can possibly be made by the women of the country should be turned in to the Supply Department at the earliest possible date. With the cold weather coming on, the demand, for sweaters especially, has been beyond the capacity of all our resources to supply. We have forwarded promptly all knitted articles received from the chapters and have in addition been compelled to buy in the market 550,000 sweaters, of which about 250,000 have been delivered. These sweaters are machine knit and the yarn used is a mixture of cotton and wool, so that it does not withdraw any considerable amount of yarn from the women knitters of the Red Cross. We are buying all the yarn we are able to secure that is suitable for knitters and sending it out to the chapters as fast as we can get delivery of it. We have received from the chapters about 200,000 sweaters, approximately the same number of machine-made sweaters, all of which have been delivered to the men in the camps and training stations, with the exception of a few thousand which we have had to send to France. The requests of our organization in France for sweaters and knitted goods have had to remain unsatisfied on account of our inability to secure enough for men in our own Army and Navy. We call upon the women to give us their very best effort from now until at least January 1st, that we may be able to furnish our own men with these comforts and have some to spare for the dire needs in France."

REID-WILKES

Miss Clementina Wilkes, daughter of Mrs. Sadie E. Wilkes, of 721 East Acacia avenue, was married on Tuesday evening, November 27th, at eight o'clock to Mr. Harry T. Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Reid, of 234 Cedar street, at a pretty home wedding. Elder G. A. Osman, of the Los Angeles Advent Christian church officiated. The bridesmaid was Miss Nora Ransier and the best man was the brother of the bride, Mr. Jesse Wilkes. The house was artistically decorated in white carnations with greenery and the ceremony was performed under a beautiful arch with a large wedding bell of carnations and smilax. The bride was pretty in her white crepe de chine gown with a beautiful wedding veil. She carried a bouquet of Cecil Bruner roses while the bridesmaid in a pretty and simple little frock carried a bouquet of white carnations and ferns. Miss Irene Wilkes, sister of the bride, played the wedding march from Lohengrin. The young people received heartfelt congratulations from the twenty-five guests present besides many beautiful and useful gifts. Later delicious refreshments were served with an especially beautiful wedding cake. Mr. and Mrs. Reid have left for a motor trip to San Diego and will be as home to their friends after December 1st at 423 Orange Grove avenue.

A splendid program will be given by the Sunday School of the Tropico Methodist Church on Sunday under the direction of the Missionary Superintendent, Mrs. Thomas Meagher. Miss Jean Loomis, who is at home for a short time from the missionary fields of China, will be present. Also some Chinese girls, who will speak and sing in their native language. They will be dressed in the beautiful Chinese costumes of the Orient. All parents and friends of the children are most cordially invited to attend.

GREAT MUSICAL EVENING TONIGHT AT BAPTIST MEETING

There are thirty different kinds of fools mentioned in the Bible, and Singing Evangelist W. Earle Smith paid his respects to a goodly number of them at the Baptist church last night. Basing his remarks on the candid confession of Saul, "I have played the fool," he vividly depicted the various varieties that parade today under Saul's armor, devoting special attention to the realms of business, society and religion.

That large number of individuals who are never satisfied and who yet fail to go to Christ who alone can satisfy, were forcefully portrayed by the story of a boy who started to the city with a horse which he soon traded for a cow which was quickly displaced by a pig, which in turn was traded for a duck which soon grew heavy as he carried it first under one arm and then the other, when coming to a calm lake he decided his happiness would be complete if he could throw stones into its placid depths and see the waves spread shoreward. So he exchanged the duck for some stones with another boy, and having exhausted them in his temporary delight, he was forced to reflect that he had played the fool, having nothing in his hands in return for the horse with which he started.

Numerous other startling and forceful illustrations gave point and pith to the spiritual truths which were emphasized throughout. The largely increased audience was greatly pleased with the powerful discourse, as well as with the sweet singing by Mr. Smith, of which he furnished a generous supply. Tonight he hopes to introduce the famous South Park Quartet and may also have an additional surprise in the person of a famous singer from the city, who has promised to be present the first opportunity. Many from other churches in the city were present last night, as well as many strangers. Join the procession, and hear him tonight.

CARVING TURKEY IS THANKSGIVING ART

First, place the fork firmly in the center of the breastbone at its very highest point. Remove the leg by inserting the knife behind it, then make a clean cut around it. With the blade of the knife press back the leg and the thigh. This can be done with a single motion.

Next cut the ligaments where the thigh bone is attached to the back. This severs the leg. The "oyster," which is a choice, rich bit of dark meat, is found at the end of the side bone toward the tail in a bone depression. It may be carved out at this point.

To remove the wing, first make an incision at the joint, and as soon as you find the point of division between the two bones cut down sharply.

To cut thin slices from the breast begin close to the place from which the wing was removed. Then work up to the ridge of the breastbone Many carvers attempt to make the first slices from the breast the largest; this is a mistake.

At this point the fork can be removed and used with the knife to separate the drumstick from the thigh. Locate, as with the wing, the point at which two bones can be severed, which will be just over the round bone of the leg joint and not at its apex, as one might think. With one sharp stroke cut through the ligaments at this joint.

Next cut the dark meat on both thigh bone and drumstick into small and inviting portions and divide the wing into two parts.

If the meat has been entirely removed from the breast, the stuffing will be laid bare for serving. Make an opening at the breast, especially if there are two kinds of stuffing.

Always serve a portion of light and dark meat and some of the stuffing on each plate. Carve but one side of the turkey and when that is served carve the opposite side in a manner similar to the first side.

WASH YOUR FACE AT NIGHT

The first law of beauty is not to leave powder on the face over night, to say nothing of rouge. It is enough to ruin the most beautiful skin eventually, and its effect on a complexion, which had no real claims to beauty, is nothing short of disastrous, declares a beauty expert. Powder is usually put on over a coating of cold cream to make it stick. This paste, left on all night, clogs the pores. The skin habituated to this treatment is pasty and sallow, without life, and usually the pores are enlarged from the deposits of powder.

It seems so simple to slip into bed at once when you are tired and it seems hard to take the time and energy to give your face a good cleaning. But really it is worth the effort, for by staying up ten minutes more to wash out all vestige of cosmetics you will keep your skin lovely. The nightly cleaning should be the most important and the most thorough of all. If it is properly done, all that will be necessary in the morning will be the cold sponge off. At night, however, all the dust and dirt of the day has settled on the face, besides the cold cream and powder, and it needs a good scrubbing to get it off.

RE-EDUCATION OF DISABLED SOLDIERS

Manufacturers are being asked, "Will you employ disabled men, and on what conditions?"

All this may be taken for granted. The question is only one of training the remaining powers of the crippled men to new uses.

Re-education begins the moment the man is wounded. The surgeon must be taught to make the most of the wounded member. He must know the service value of any possible physical salvage.

"Will power" must be re-established. A painter loses his eye. A pianist his hands. The badly maimed lose courage and hope. They have, after previous wars, often insisted on support without effort. There have been instances at Soldiers' Homes where inmates with nothing to do went without fresh vegetables rather than help bring them in.

The government should continue its military control over the badly wounded until a competent board consisting of officers, doctors and representatives of industry and labor, pronounce the re-education complete and the soldier ready for new endeavors.

The re-employment of the faculties begins in the hospital bed with games and puzzles which excite interest. It ends with the mastery, so far as may be, of a new and fitting occupation, the release of the soldier from governmental control and his hearty reentrance upon a life of productive and successful effort.

The man is injured in the public service. The burden is upon the public and not upon either the future employer or upon the wage earners with whom he will compete. He must get all he earns and no more. Employers and fellow workers will honor and assist him. But the difference between his real earning power and his old income is the amount due him as his insurance, plus such other sums as may betoken appreciation of his sufferings and honor for his devotion.

Re-education is a stupendous task. It primarily is for a great Federal Board to undertake and direct even as one board now trains for the army, another provides airplanes and another builds ships.

Marvels have been accomplished. Men without hands are driving nails better than the average carpenter. The blind develop a sixth sense. When the government has done its best by these men there will be no question how fellow wage-earners and employers will receive and honor the re-educated producer.—From American Industries for November.

tence of one year and one day, less deductions for good behavior. Mrs. Cornell was convicted with Franz Bopp, former German consul here, Baron E. H. von Schack and others, as a party to the conspiracy to set afoot an armed expeditionary in this country.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—San Francisco fight fans predict a brilliant career for Eugene Brosseau of Montreal, Canada, after seeing him emerge victorious from bouts h ere with Pete Towne and Jack Barkley. Brosseau, who is an amateur, much resembles Mike Gibbons in his style of fighting. He crowded his men, in his bouts here, from the first to the last round; evaded their punches by slipping his head this way, that way; countered like a professional, fought hard in the clinches and punched like a natural puncher. On top of that he is game as a pebble. He is about 21 years of age.

Santa Claus is buried in Italy—that is, the man from whom we got Santa Claus. He was Saint Nicholas—an archbishop of Myra, in Lycia, who passed away on December 6, 342. He was supposed to be a holy personage of unusual attributes, with an especial love for children. In Russia this day is a church day; in France it is the grand fete day of children; in many provinces of Germany it is celebrated as a preliminary to Christmas; in the Netherlands it is the real day for gifts, with December 25 as a church day; in South Austria it takes the place of our Christmas day. Nicholas was abbreviated to "Klaas" by the Dutch, and from this our "Claus" is easily apparent. At Bari, on the southeastern coast of Italy, the bones of Saint Nicholas are interred, and on every December 6th thousands of pilgrims visit the tomb and great ceremonies are held. So, when children ask if there is a real Santa Claus, we can at least answer that there was!

HIT A WEAK SPOT

"What's become of Sammy Silk?" I ain't seen him for a long time."

"Ain't you heard? A two-ton block of stone fell on his chest and killed him."

"Poor Sammy; I always said he'd have to be careful with that weak chest of his'n."

BETTER NOW

When I was a boy I was glad enough to eat dry bread for my dinner," said father, at the head of the table.

"Well, daddy," piped up his small daughter, "you are having a much better time now you are living with us."

The Price of Sound Health Is Right Living

Glendale Sanitarium Glendale, California

If you are not clear-eyed, ruddy and strong; if you feel all fagged out before the day is over or, perhaps before it is fairly begun; if you can't make things hum in the office (or in the home)—something is wrong! You must unload or take on less cargo. Do you want to spend the best days of your life with a sick body? Of course not! Neither do you want to spend an unreasonable time recovering your physical fitness.

At the Glendale Sanitarium we operate on the theory that you cannot get well thinking about your difficulties. You cannot get well doing the very same things and living in the very same atmosphere that produced illness. Medicines can never take the place of nature's own curatives. You need pure air, rest, proper food, proper exercise, healthful surroundings and simple treatment.
